

Letter from Walter Bagot, Blithfield, to an unnamed female cousin, circa 1620 November 19: autograph manuscript draft, Papers of the Bagot family of Blithfield, Staffordshire. Transcription by Early Modern Manuscripts Online (EMMO). MS L.a.160, Folger Shakespeare Library, Washington, DC.

leaf 1 recto

Good cosin I am very sory for that you continewe in ^{the} restraynt of your libertie And although my occasions bee such ^{^that} as I can not (as I desier) come see you yet in regard of affinitie, and old loue, frendship & familiaritie, I can not but by letters remember you least you shold thinke mee vnmyndfull of my frendes and carelesse of their aduerse estate. These are the occasions of that haue moued mee first to wryte secondly at your leasure to craue I maye knowe how you are prosecuted by your enuiose aduersaries whose myndes are (no doubt) as well fraught with malitiouse deuises to intangle you into farther troubles as there mouthes are full of false reportes which I ^{I hope} ~~doubt not but~~ in the end will fall out to there owne shame and discredicte. And although I ~~make no doubt~~ ^{am assured I will} your innocensie is such as you neede not feare there vnhonest practises yet I wold wishe you bee very cercumspecte ^{beeinge} ~~in regard~~ you are matched with such aduersaries as haue no regard ether of their word, ~~or the~~ faith, feare of god or shame of the world and therefore are men most daungerose to bee dealt with all. such as will speake and vnspeake sweare and vnsweare any tinge beeinge neuer so manifest so that it maye serue to the effectinge their vile practises. Lastly to offer my selfe vnto you in all loue & frendship and to assure you of any thinge whatsoever my poore credicte and endeour maye aforde Thinke on mee as your frend Kynsman and wellwiller And so with my hartiest comendacons vnto my Lord and your selfe from mee and my wiefe do committ you vnto thalmightie Blythfield this xix of november

leaf 1 verso