Sir, understanding by this bearer that my horse is well recovered I would desire you that he might be sent me by him, I would have come to have seen you before this but that I had hurt my foot that I could not pull on a boot, but now God be thanked it is so well that if you would send me word where you would hunt I should strain it a little to see a buck killed, Thus with my kindest remembrance to yourself & your bedfellow I commit you to the Almighty Pillaton Hall this present Wednesday. your assured friend to his power
Edward Littleton
