

Letter from John Donne to Sir Thomas Egerton, 1601/1602 March 1: autograph manuscript signed, Papers of the More family of Loseley Park, Surrey. Transcription by Early Modern Manuscripts Online (EMMO). MS L.b.533, Folger Shakespeare Library, Washington, DC.

leaf 1 recto

That offence which was to god in this Matter, his Mercy hath assurd my Conscience, ys pardoned. The Commissioners who minister his An= ger and Mercy encline also to remitt yt. Sir George More, of whose learning and wisdome, I haue good knowledge, and therefore good hope of his Moderacion, hath sayd, before his last goinge, that he was so far from being any Cause or Mouer of my punishment or disgrace that if yt fitted his reputacion, he would be a sutor to your lordship for my restoringe. All these Irons are knoed of; yett I perish in as heavy fetters, as euer, whilst I languish vnder your lordships Anger. How soone my History is dispatchd! I was care= fully and honestly bred; enioyd an indifferent fortune; I had,
(and I had vnderstandinge inough to valew yt) the sweetnes and security of a freedome and independency; withowt markinge owt to my hopes, any place of profitt, I had a desire to be your lordships seruant; by the fauor which your good Sonns loue to me, ob= teind, I was 4 years your lordships Secretary, not dishonest, nor gredy.
The sicknes of which I dyed, ys, that I begonne in your lordships house, this loue. Wher I shalbe buried, I know not. It ys late now, for me (but that Necessity, as yt hath continually an Autumne and a wytheringe, so yt hath euer a springe, and must put forthe) to beginne that Course, which some years past, I purposd, to trauaile; though I could now do yt, not much disaduantadgeably. But I haue some bri= dle vpon me now, more then then, by my Marriadge of this gentlewoman: in prouiding for whom, I can and wyll show mymy self very honest, though not so fortunate. To seek preferment here, with any but your lordship were a Madnes. Euery great Man, to whom I shall address any such suite, wyll silently dispute the Case, and say, would my Lordship keeper so disgraciously haue impri= sond him, and flung him away, if he had not donne some other great fault, of which wee hear not? So that to the burden of my true weaknesses, I shall haue this Addicion, of a very preiudi= ciall suspicion, that I ame worse, then, I hope, your lordship dothe think me, or would that the world should thinke. I haue leaf 1 verso

therefore no way before me; but must turn back to your lordship, who knowes, that Redemption was no less worke then Creation. I know my fault so well, and so well acknowledge yt, that I protest I haue not so much as inwardly grudgd, nor startled at the punishment. I know your lordships disposicion so well, as though in course of Iustice, yt be of prooffe against clamors of Offendors, yet yt ys not strong inough to resist yt selfe, and I know yt selfe naturally enclines yt to pittie. I know myne own necessity owt of which I humbly beg, that your lordship wyll so much entender your hart towards me, as to giue me leaue to come into your presence.

Affliction, Misery, and destruction are not there; and euery where els, wher I ame, they are.

1<sup>o</sup> Martii 160i.

Your lordships
most poore and most penitent
serunt
Iohn Donne.

leaf 2 recto

leaf 2 verso

To the right honorable my very good Lord and Master, Sir Thomas Eger= ton knight, Lord keeper of the great Seal of En= gland.