

Letter from John Ogilvy, Balfour, to James Rattray, Craighall, 1674 September: autograph manuscript signed, Papers of the Rattray family of Craighall [manuscript], 1593-1699.. Transcription by Early Modern Manuscripts Online (EMMO). MS X.c.61 (119), Folger Shakespeare Library, Washington, DC.

leaf 1 recto

Blakstoune the [◇] of September 1674

Loving brother I have verrie often disyred your uncle Milvehall to ask your sister uhither she uould restore my bonds or not, if I can obtaine no disyre from her, I intreat ye may doe me the favore to call for ane sight of some bonds that are amongst the rest, granted to me by Iames Arbuthnot of blakstoune, and take ane accompt of the soumes of mone contained in them upon peaper uith the daite of eache bond by it selfe, upon my uord I knou not uhat the soumes are, nor att uhat time I did receive them, & he & I being this ueike to close our accompts I am resolved except my bonds be retired or ane extract of them by your selfe, never to demand ane groat of them since I have nothing to instruct my debt but bear alegiance, it uas not my intentione (uhen that Lady uas pleased to seperat her selfe from me, to have kept such ane distance uith her, ~~unlesse~~ till I found my name to be odious yea most ridiculous to her, which those ignominious calumnies nou publickly knoune to all,) doeth uell testifie, but I uish the Lord almytie forgive her and so doe I, and I appeal to her conscience hou many abused singular testimonies of my respect uithin these ten years hath she received; and uith uhat horrid crueltie and disdaine she still reuarded me, uich att last did bring me almost to nought, as for her present carriage (Authorize her uho uill) she hath given her reputatione ane indelable staine, & shou her from me that it uere much more incumbent for her to ^{^^be} keeping home cloathed in sackloth & ashes, beuailing the lamentable judgments that are upon our miserable families then Dinalyk to be gading abrod to mercats contracting unnecessarye bourdings but uhat prejudice she can doe me in my estate lett her doe it since it is come this lenth I shall assist in the spending to the full; and ere it be long I shall be where I shall ^{^^not} be much troubled uith the shame of it (as I am att present, she uould not send me so many of my bed hingings as cover her poore infants nakednesse, nor so many of ther bak clothes as cover them from the cold but all doe I undervalou for god uill provide for them, if your affairs can permitt I disyre ye uill doe me the favore to come the lenth of patt crockat ^{^^in Alyt} on moonday that I may imparte a littel affaire to you and you shall be uaited on by Sir, your affectionatt brother and faithfull servant

John Ogilvey

leaf 1 verso

I shall uaitte on you att Alyt till tuelve or on acloke in the afternoone but I should uish yo uould come be ten & if ye bring those bonds uith you you doe me ane favore

These
for the Laird of Craighall Younger